Metro District launches new adult cornhole league

Spring is just around the corner and the Highlands Ranch Metro District is ready. Registration is open for all Metro District spring recreation programs including its newest offering, adult Cornhole leagues. Teams of two will compete against other teams in this fun, backyard game. If you're looking for an entertaining, laid-back activity you can enjoy with a group of friends, Cornhole is for you.

In addition to Cornhole, the Metro District has a variety of spring recreation programs open for registration. There is something for everyone, kids to adults, and beginner to experienced players.

Youth programs include:

- AYL Boys Lacrosse in conjunction with Warriors Youth Sports
- Flag Football
- CARA Recreational Lacrosse
- Skateboarding
- Baseball/Softball Clinics
- Field Hockey

Adult programs include:

- Softball
- Flag Football
- Cornhole
- Bocce Ball
- Kickball

If you are already looking towards summer activities, individuals and teams can sign up beginning Feb. 8 for the Metro District's summer youth T-ball, baseball and girls softball leagues. More than 3,000 kids participate in this popular program each year. A special registration day will be held Feb. 8 from 9-11 a.m. at the Metro District Parks, Recreation & Open Space Service Center, and noon – 1:30 p.m. at Dick's Sporting Goods at Park Meadows.

Register for Metro District recreation programs online at www.highlandsranch.org or in person at the Metro District's Parks, Recreation & Open Space Service Center at Redstone Park, 3280 Redstone Park Cir. You can sign up as an individual or find some friends, fill out a roster and register a team. For more information, contact the Metro District at 303-791-2710.

Founded in 1981 as the local government in Highlands Ranch, Colo., the Metro District provides a variety of municipal services to this planned community of 93,000 people. Learn more about the Metro District at www.highlandsranch.org.
