More than 1,400 people volunteered with the Metro District in 2018

There is no typical volunteer, there is no volunteer like another, but they do have one thing in common – an interest in their community and desire to make a difference. The Highlands Ranch Metro District is lucky to have had 1,413 volunteers in 2018. These individuals have contributed time in a variety of areas including coaching youth sports, greeting guests at the Highlands Ranch Mansion, planting a tree, serving ice cream at a community event and more.

“It just wouldn’t be possible to fulfill our mission of sharing the history of the Mansion with the community without our volunteer docents and greeters,” said Susie Appleby, volunteer and historic programs coordinator for the Mansion. “They are the most dedicated and passionate people I have ever had the pleasure of working with. We are so lucky to have them.”

Families, students, scout groups, church groups and retirees – these are some of the faces of Highlands Ranch volunteers. Thank you for giving your time and energy and we look forward to working with you in 2019.
